

HIUS 151: “Law & Liberty”

1/7/15 Edition (READINGS WILL BE ADDED/REMOVED DURING QUARTER)

American Legal History from 1865-Present

Winter 2015

Time: TuTh 5-6:20	Place: CSB 005
Professor: Kristopher Nelson, JD (ABD)	Office: HSS 1133
Email: krisnelson@ucsd.edu	Office Hours: Th 4-5 or by appointment: http://krisnelson.org/schedule

HIUS 151 will cover "liberty and the law," ranging from the supremacy of contract law in the nineteenth century; to the controversies of wiretapping, civil rights (race, gender, disability), and abortion in the twentieth; and ending with the NSA in the twenty-first. I do not expect you to be either a history major or a legal specialist. The class will mix discussion and argument and give students knowledge to make a difference in the world, not just in academia.

Required Text

Friedman, Lawrence M, History of American Law, Third Edition (2005). Available at the UCSD Bookstore.

Optional Text

Hall, Kermit L. and Peter Karsten, The Magic Mirror: Law in American History, Second Edition (2008). Available at the UCSD Bookstore.

Further Required Readings

Additional selected readings available via TED or online. Readings may be added or removed from the syllabus during the term, so pay attention.

Note that some legal readings are dense. You will need to read smart, and look for the key elements and core ideas, rather than simply slowing down or trying to remember everything. You may find it helpful to discuss the readings with others in advance of the class. You may also find the Internet helpful (but be careful not to believe everything you read online).

Requirements

Participation (10%). In-class quizzes (25%, and your lowest two scores will be discarded). Midterm exam (25%). Final exam (40%). Note: exams will be open book.

Failure to complete any component with a passing grade will result in failing the class. For P/NP students, a C- is required for a passing grade.

Please come prepared with readings done in advance (except for the first week, when readings can be completed after lecture). Quizzes will occur randomly during the quarter and will generally be short and simple. They will emphasize the that day's readings and previous lectures. Starting the second week, you must bring a quiz sheet with you to class in case there is a quiz (see TED for printable version).

DETAILS OF THIS WILL BE DISCUSSED IN CLASS!

Electronic Devices

Unless given explicit permission, you may only take notes by hand in class, not on computer. I do not expect you to memorize or record details of my lectures; I expect you to gather key ideas and core concepts.

Why?

Recent research has shown greater retention when students take notes by hand.¹ My own experience also demonstrates much lower levels of in-class engagements when students interpose screens between themselves and the front of the classroom. More critically, recent studies have shown that use of laptops in class harms the learning of surrounding students.²

You may have electronic devices in class when referring to your electronically delivered readings when we are going through them (you may also print them out, of course).

Topics

The history of American law and legal institutions. This course examines race relations and law, the rise of big business, the origins of the modern welfare state during the Great Depression, the crisis of civil liberties produced by two world wars and McCarthyism, and the Constitutional revolution wrought by the Warren Court.

Academic Integrity

Integrity of scholarship is essential for an academic community. The University expects that both faculty and students will honor this principle and in so doing protect the validity of University intellectual work. For students, this means that all academic work will be done by the individual to whom it is assigned, without unauthorized aid of any kind.

Disabilities and Accommodations

Students requesting accommodations for this course due to a disability must provide a current Authorization for Accommodation (AFA) letter issued by the Office for Students with Disabilities (OSD) which is located in University Center 202 behind Center Hall. Students are required to present their AFA letters to Faculty (please make arrangements to contact me privately) and to the OSD Liaison in the department in advance so that accommodations may be arranged.
